GREENVILLE NEWS
Shortly after 2:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon a Central Village car north-bound jumped the tracks on the curve just north of the Marquette building on North Main street, and crossing the street ran up onto the sidewalk and almost over the embankment. As it was the iron fence was badly twisted and bent. The wrecking car soon arrived and after a half hour's hard work pulled the car back into the street and onto the rails again. The accident tied up traffic for some time and quite a crowd was attracted to the spot. The car was in charge of Motorman George Jennings and Conductor Frank Burdick.

HARRY O. BISHOP WAS FORMER NORWICH MAN.
Died in Hospital Following Injuries Received in New London Accident.

Harry O. Bishop of New Haven, the freight conductor of the New Haven road and a former Norwich resident, died at the Lawrence hospital in New London early Saturday morning from injuries received at Fort Neck yard Friday night, when he was crushed between two freight cars.

Bishop was in charge of freight train No. 1 from Midway to Harlem which stopped at the New Haven yard of the road about 9 o'clock. Bishop went between two cars to couple the air brake when an engine switched some cars on to the track. Bishop was caught between the cars and thrown to the ground, the wheels passing over his body.

When he was found by members of the train crew Bishop was seen to be seriously injured. He was taken to the union station on an engine and at the baggage room he was attended by Dr. F. D. Dutton who gave emergency treatment and then ordered taken to the Lawrence hospital. There it was found necessary to amputate the left leg above the knee and the left arm above the elbow. The right leg was fractured in three places. Bishop lived only a short time after the operation, dying at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Bishop was well known in this city among railroad men and others and his death is a source of regret to the entire city. He was employed by the Roadmaster & Lord in Norwich. He was formerly employed as a conductor on the New London lines of the Connecticut company. Later he entered the employ of the Central Vermont Railway company as brakeman, later being promoted to conductor. About a year and a half ago he became employed by the Central Vermont road. He is a member of the Stoughton lodge of Odd Fellows.

Mr. Bishop was the son of Edson S. Bishop, United States marshal, and the late Mary E. Davis Bishop, and his wife was Miss Bertha A. Ingraham of Greenville, where they were married in 1890. Bishop was 35 years of age and is survived by his wife and one daughter, Dorra Ethier, his only child. A brother, Arthur Bishop, died in Norwich several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop were in Norwich on Christmas day and were brought to this city this afternoon for burial in Yantic cemetery.

Steam Shovel Moved.
The steam shovel that has been at work on the bank just north of Baldwin's store, on Norwich avenue, was removed to the bank of the river Sunday, where it will be set at work on the new Jewett City road. For the past week it has been digging out the hillside and loading the earth onto carts to be carried over to the new road. The work of removing the machine to the opposite side of the river was greatly retarded, because no spikes were used in the wheels, necessitating the use of planks. The machine, which is a powerful one, removed many tons of earth while in Taftville.

Sheltering Arms Service.
Rev. F. W. Coleman of Trinity Methodist church conducted a helpful service at the sheltering arms Sunday afternoon. The subject of the address was God's Love. Christ is the expression to us of God's love, he said. It required the revelation of Christ to show something besides the power and wisdom to show the heart of God. The God from whose presence we came and to whom we shall go, gave His Son to die for us. Through health and sickness, youth and old age, yet when we come to the valley of the shadow of death, may we be with us to strengthen and support.

A choir of nine young ladies under the direction of Mrs. W. G. Haselund, made the musical part of the hour one to be remembered. In the anthems Dreamy Light and Child of Heaven the idea of Christmas was prominent and the tone were given with true harmony and beauty of expression. Waldo Newbury was at the piano. Many came in to the service and afterwards visited with members of the household.
